Winchester Boy Hurt Seriously In Crash

WINCHESTER, Ky. (Special)—Edward Fraysure Jr., second lieutenant in the Army Air Corps and former city circulation manager of the Winchester Sun, was injured seriously late Monday in the crash of a bomber plane near Pueblo, Colo., in which four fliers were killed and five injured.

Col. James N. Peyton, station commandant at the Pueblo Army Air Base, announced that the plane—a four-motored Liberator—was on a combat training flight when the crash occurred.

Lieutenant Fraysure is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Fraysure, 15 West Lexington avenue. The young officer, who only recently received his wings, is a graduate of Winchester high school, where he was an outstanding student and a member of the high school band. He worked several months at the Lexington Signal Depot before entering the Army Air Corps.

At the Army air base hospital, Fraysure's condition was reported by the Army as serious.

Fraysur, Edward Jr.

Lieutenant Fraysur was an honor student and a member of the Winchester High School band before his graduation in 1942. He was employed for a year as city circulation manager at The Winchester Sun, beginning in March 1941. Fraysur joined the air corps on February 18, 1943, and graduated from the Army Air Force Navigation School, San Marcos, Texas. While on a combat training flight near Pueblo, Colorado, Fraysur's bomber went down, killing four, and injuring five, including Fraysur, who sustained severe burns. He died Friday, June 16, 1944 at Fitzsimmons General Hospital, Denver, Colorado. Lt. Fraysur had been a member of Central Baptist Church, Winchester, and regularly donated 10 percent of his earnings to the church, even sending a check for $30 from his hospital in Colorado. He was survived by his parents, Mr. And Mrs. Edward Fraysur, Senior. Fraysur's services were conducted by Rev. R. Don Gambrell, and Taylor Lowry at the Winchester Cemetery.
